“Excellence in Corporate Governance”

www.sid.org.sg

SID is the national association of company directors and was formed in the aftermath of the 1997 Asian Financial Crisis to promote and uphold high standards of corporate governance.

SID's mission is to encourage the highest standards of corporate governance and ethical conduct.

SID has a pivotal role interfacing between directors, boards, regulators and other corporate players. SID essentially presents the view and represents the interests of boards and directors. Initiatives include:

- SID together with the Centre for Governance, Institutions and Organisations (CGIO) of the NUS Business School were appointed by the Monetary Authority of Singapore as the Domestic Ranking Body for the ASEAN Corporate Governance Scorecard, an initiative of the Asian Development Bank.
- SID works with CGIO and CPA Australia on the Singapore Governance and Transparency Index (SGTI).
- SID co-organises the annual Singapore Corporate Awards with The Business Times and the Institute of Singapore Chartered Accountants.
- SID collaborates with the Singapore Exchange and other partners on a biennial Singapore Board of Directors Survey, and a biennial Singapore Directorship Report.
- SID Council and Committee members write a regular column in The Business Times called "Boardroom Matters".
- SID, in collaboration with professional firms and with the support of the Accounting and Corporate Regulatory Authority, Monetary Authority of Singapore and Singapore Exchange, produces the series of Corporate Governance Guides for Boards and Board Committees in Singapore.

“SID has been a key partner in ACRA's efforts to promote corporate compliance and strengthening the integrity and quality of financial reporting in Singapore. We look forward to seeing SID continue to play an important role in the development of good corporate governance practices and as a hub for the professional training of directors.”

Mr Kenneth Yap

Chief Executive, Accounting and Corporate Regulatory Authority

“Good governance is critical to charities as much as public listed companies as both are public interest entities. SID's reach to and programmes for nonprofit directors will help them to play an effective board role and enhance their organisations' accountability and gain the trust and confidence of their many stakeholders.”

Mr Low Puk Yeong

Commissioner of Charities

“Many nonprofit directors are volunteers from commercial companies. They bring fresh perspectives and valuable experiences to the nonprofit boards. SID, as the national association for directors, provides an excellent platform for leaders of nonprofit and for-profit organisations to come together to learn and share, and grow professionally and be more effective directors.”

Ms Mildred Tan

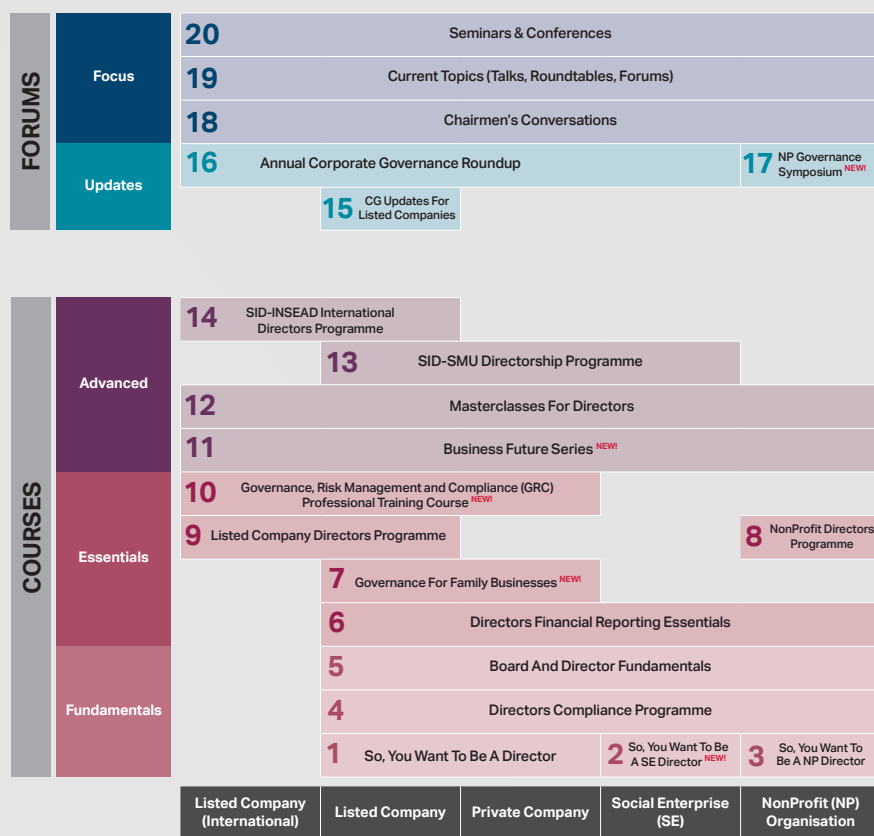

Chairperson, National Volunteer & Philanthropy Centre

“I am happy that SID with its long history as the national association for directors is broadening its reach to nonprofit leaders. NCSS is pleased to be working with SID to develop nonprofit directors and enhance the governance of Social Service Organisations and other nonprofit organisations.”

Mr Sim Gim Guan

CEO, National Council of Social Services

SID has an unparalleled role in director training and education. Its comprehensive curriculum (see map below) which also includes a track for nonprofit directors, provides for the full range of developmental needs for board members, from aspiring directors to board chairmen.

SID has tied up with regulators, universities and professional bodies to provide formal training for the continuing professional development of directors. These include:

- Accounting and Corporate Regulatory Authority for the Directors Compliance Programme.
- Singapore Exchange for the Listed Company Directors Programme (offered in English and Mandarin).
- Singapore Management University for the SID-SMU Directorship Programme.
- Top European business school INSEAD for the SID-INSEAD International Directors Programme.
- Institute of Singapore Chartered Accountants for the SID-ISCA Directors Financial Reporting Essentials.
- Social Service Institute, the Centre for NonProfit Leadership and the Charity Council for the NonProfit Directors Programme.

“Artists help us discover and express who we are as individuals, and as a nation. The work of Arts companies enhances the quality of our lives and enriches the cultural heritage of future generations. The arts and other nonprofit sectors would benefit greatly from working with SID to nurture strong leaders with integrity and build robust governance systems to ensure that they grow from strength to strength.”

Ms Kathy Lai
CEO, National Arts Council

“SID is a good partner to us in finding directors for nonprofit boards who adapt corporate thinking and add diversity to bring positive changes to these organisations.”

Ms Theresa Goh
President, Centre for NonProfit Leadership

SID organises seminars and forums and offers a network for the interchange of ideas in corporate governance and directorship, such as:

- The annual flagship SID Directors' Conference.
- An annual year-end Corporate Governance Roundup.
- Chairmen's Conversations on topics of concern to board chairmen and the various board committees' chairmen.
- Regular talks and forums on current hot topics of interest with professional bodies and corporate partners.

Other SID membership services include:

- Board Appointment Services.
 - Discounted member rates for SID's courses, events, activities and publications.
 - Members' networking socials.
 - Quarterly SID Directors' Bulletin.

“SID is well regarded by the business community. ISCA is happy to be working in solidarity with SID on common spaces such as financial reporting, audit committees and corporate awards.”

Mr Gerard Ee

President, Institute of Singapore Chartered Accountants

“As the apex business chamber championing the interests of the Singapore business community, we support the Singapore Institute of Directors, its membership and its championing of good corporate governance as important elements of a well-oiled and functioning business sector.”
